Cricket at Old Trafford 2010

npower Test Matches and NatWest Series ODI

Old Trafford hosts two exciting England International fixtures featuring Australia and Bangladesh in 2010.

Starting on Friday 4th June, Andrew Strauss and his England side will take on Bangladesh in the second npower Test Match (4-8 June) and on Sunday 27th June, England face World Champions Australia in a NatWest One-Day International.

The Bangladesh game could be the last Test Match played at Old Trafford, subject to its redevelopment plans, and Lancashire County Cricket Club wants England to play in front of sold out stands.

Old Trafford offers unrivalled views of the action and magnificent hospitality at what is the most prestigious ground in the north-west and The National Sporting Club is delighted to offer a range of hospitality at this ground.

Old Trafford offers a range of hospitality packages to suit a variety of budgets and requirements. For England v Bangladesh, Test Match Specials are available in the Gold Marquee. The ever-popular Red Rose Suite is available on some days, with its own balcony set behind the bowler's arm. There are a few private viewing boxes, set at the Stretford end of the ground, with their own private balconies, each seating twelve persons behind the bowler's arm.

To watch England battle against the boys from down under you can make it a special day with private viewing boxes suitable for 8 or 12 persons, each with their own balcony.

Example - Red Rose Suite Package includes:

- Tickets to private balcony
- Champagne reception
- Match day programme
- Three-course lunch prior to match
- Tea, coffee, cheese and biscuits post-match
- Souvenir gift
- Car parking offsite (one per two guest)
- Complimentary bar (excluding champagne)

Please contact us for package details for the Gold marquee, and private boxes
